BRONZE AGE SPRAY TANNING LLC. uses a spray gun/airbrush to apply a cosmetic tanning solution containing Dihydroxyacetone (DHA). Because each individual is unique and solutions are cosmetic, clients who are allergic or have sensitive skin may experience a minor rash. Longevity of the tan cannot be guaranteed. Again, every person is different and will experience varying results. Staining of certain fabrics can occur, and on fabrics such as nylon, silk or leather, may be permanent. Other fabrics can stain as will, but most will wash out with a mild detergent. If you have any major illness, respiratory or skin disorders and are using any medications, please check with your physician before receiving this service. Although there have been no known side effects recorded with the use of the active ingredient DHA, we as an overall precaution, do not wish to spray pregnant women, Showering with "deodorant" soap may also cause a minor skin rash in sensitive areas. Certain formulas may contain walnut extract, do not use if allergic to nuts.

I, _____ have read the above disclaimer and agree to hold Bronze Age Spray Tanning LLC. harmless if any of the above (but not limited to) experiences occurs. I understand that my results may vary. I am using this service at my own discretion and understand that there are no refunds for any services. I will remember to follow the before and after written directions to achieve best results.
